

Dear Parents,

Most of you were able to adjust your morning routine to be with your child for Open House on Friday. I am grateful for your effort. That you were here is a big deal for your child. I hope your time deepened your understanding of your child's doily seven hours of learning at Bridge Point. As well, I hope your visit provided plenty of common experience for some cool conversations with your children.

In a week we will be enjoying Spring Break. The following ten weeks will be a whirlwind. End of year events accelerate through May. Teaching and learning will be competing with field trips, Bobcat Fests, May Madness and multiple major assessment events. And that is just at school. Busy, busy spring schedules outside school hours affect precious productive waking hours. It is all a blast but let's commit to some "deep breathing" for some perspective taking every once in a while. It will be better if we do!

Have a great week....and then next week have a great Spring Break.

Sincerely,

M. Bradford Wirht
